Awards & Rankings - General Disclosure Statement

Third-party rankings and recognition from ratings services, or publications, are no guarantee of future investment success. Working with a highly-rated adviser does not ensure that a client or prospective client will experience a higher level of performance or results. These ratings should not be construed as an endorsement of the adviser by any client nor are they representative of any one client's evaluation. Generally, ratings, rankings, and recognition are based on information prepared and submitted by the adviser. Each reprint or e-print has its own unique disclosure related to the criteria and requirements for receiving such award and it is important for clients to understand this when evaluating Weatherly. Questions regarding these disclosures can be directed to Carolyn Taylor by phone (858) 259-4507 or email Carolyn@weatherlyassetmgt.com.

Although Weatherly Asset Management, and its advisors, do not pay fees for awards or rankings, there are instances where Weatherly will pay for reprints or advertising after receiving recognition. This represents a conflict of interest for the firm issuing the award or ranking, however, Weatherly believes the awards and rankings advertised are bona fide.

The criterion for ranking reflects assets under management as of 03/31/2025, revenue that the advisors generate for their Firms, regulatory record, quality of the advisor’s practices, and philanthropic work. Investment performance is not an explicit criterion because the advisors’ clients pursue a wide range of goals. In many instances, the primary goal is asset preservation. The scoring system assigns a top score of 100 and rates the rest by comparing them with the top-ranked advisor. Carolyn was ranked 62nd. Carolyn Taylor was invited to participate in the nomination process via email solicitation from Barron’s and nominated by colleagues for inclusion in the list. For this year’s Top 100 Women Advisors ranking, 1,141 advisors submitted data. Barron’s uses a proprietary method to rank advisors based on the criteria above. Weatherly provides this data to Barron’s in the form of a survey response. Barron’s verifies that data with the advisors’ firms and with regulatory databases, then we apply our rankings formula to the data to generate a ranking. The formula features three major categories of calculations: 1) assets, 2) revenue, and 3) quality of practice. Initial ranking is done by Barron’s; publicly available data is verified by Barron’s against SEC and FINRA reports. Barron’s then conducts the next level of ranking. Data that is not independently verified by Barron’s is then sent back to the Firm for verification. Barron’s then incorporates any required changes into the ranking and finalizes the list for editorial use and publishing. No payment was required for nomination or inclusion in the ranking. No organizational memberships were required of the Firm or individuals. Ranking on this list is not representative of any one client’s experience and is not indicative of Weatherly’s future performance. Weatherly is not aware of any facts that would call into question the validity of the ranking or the appropriateness of advertising inclusion in this list.

She was invited to complete an online survey detailing information about her career, as well as Weatherly as a firm. Carolyn was named 25th out of the 180 named in the Southern California HNW category. In total, the list showcased over 9,000 wealth managers. The list was published on April 8th, 2025 on Forbes.com at <https://www.forbes.com/lists/best-in-state-wealth-advisors/>. This 2025 Best-In-State ranking is based on data collected and Weatherly's AUM of $1.3B as of 06/30/2024. Forbes America's Top Wealth Advisors and Best-in-State Wealth Advisors ranking was developed by SHOOK Research and is based on in-person, virtual, and telephone due diligence meetings to measure best practices, client retention, industry experience, credentials, review of compliance records, firm nominations; and quantitative criteria, such as: assets under management and revenue generated for their firms. Investment performance is not a criterion because client objectives and risk tolerances vary, and advisors rarely have audited performance reports. SHOOK's research and rankings provide opinions intended to help investors choose the right financial advisor and are not indicative of future performance or representative of any one client's experience. Past performance is not an indication of future results. Neither Forbes nor SHOOK Research receive compensation in exchange for placement on the ranking. For more information, please see www.SHOOKresearch.com. SHOOK is a registered trademark of SHOOK Research, LLC. In total, 48,944 nominations were received, and 27,586 advisors were invited to complete the online survey. Throughout the research process, 23,303 telephone interviews, 6,004 in-person interviews, and 1,545 web-based interviews were conducted. The ranking listed over 8,500 advisors, 180 of which were located in Southern California. In addition to the above basic requirements, advisors were also judged on the following Quantitative figures: 1) weightings assigned for both revenue and production data; 2) assets under management—and quality of those assets—both custody and a scrutinized look at assets held away (although individual numbers are used for ranking purposes, we publish the entire team's assets); 3) client-related data, such as retention; 4) portfolio performance is not a factor (audited returns among advisors are rare, and differing client objectives provide varying returns). Qualitative considerations examined included but were not limited to: 1) telephone, virtual, and in-person meetings with advisors (telephone interviews are required; if an in-person meeting cannot be accomplished, exceptions are considered in which the interview will occur after a ranking has been published); 2) advisors that exhibit "best practices" within their practices and approach to working with clients; 3) compliance records and U4s; 4) advisors that provide a full client experience: service model; 5) telephone, virtual, and in-person meetings. Compliance records and U4s were also reviewed in detail as part of the selection process including: 1) infractions denied or closed with no action; 2) complaints that arose from a product, service or advice initiated by a previous advisor or another member or former member of team; 3) length of time since complaint; 4) complaints related to product failure not related to investment advice; 5) complaints that have been settled to appease a client who remained with the advisor for at least one year following settlement date; 6) complaints that were proven to be meritless; and 7) actions taken as a result of administrative error or failure by firm. Since every investor has unique needs, investors must carefully choose the right advisor for their own situation and perform their own due diligence. Rankings are based on the opinions of SHOOK Research, LLC and not indicative of future performance or representative of any one client's experience; the firm's research and rankings provide opinions for how to choose the right financial advisor. The InvestmentNews 2023 Women to Watch Awards celebrate excellence and the women who are making a difference in the financial services industry. This year's Women to Watch Awards program featured a new independent judging panel and recognized both individuals (categories: allyship champion of the year, female trailblazer of the year, Alexandra Armstrong award for lifetime achievement in the financial services industry, portfolio management of the year, rising star advisor of the year), as well as organizations (categories: employer of choice, excellence in gender diversity and inclusion). Kelli's awardee status was shared via an article in Investment News prior to the final stages of the awards program. The methodology used is outlined below. Methodology and the awards program process consisted of 5 stages: Stage 1 – Nominations – InvestmentNews celebrates achievements that measurably advance women in all aspects of the investment industry, at employers of all sizes. Professionals were invited to nominate themselves or third-party candidates and / or companies who exemplify these outstanding accomplishments through their leadership, passion, creativity, and willingness to help others along the way. Nominations were open from July 18 – August 18, 2023. There was no fee to submit a nomination and only the online nomination forms were accepted. Stage 2 – Research. The Women to Watch Summit and Awards team conducted research and drew on knowledge and information gained through InvestmentNews to support and supplement nominations received and to ensure that no one deserving of recognition was missed. "Excellence awardees" (shortlisted Finalists), in each category, were determined from both pools of information. Stage 3 – Excellence Awardees Once all nominations were considered and research was complete, Excellence Awardees (Finalists) were selected in each category and notified via e-mail or phone. All Excellence Awardees were invited to finalize their detailed nomination form ("submission"). These submissions were provided to the judging panel for voting, remained confidential, and not shared with any third parties other than the judges. Excellence awardees were officially announced in September 2023. She was invited to complete an online survey detailing information about her career, as well as Weatherly as a firm. Carolyn was named 41st out of the 79 named from Southern California. In total, the list showcased over 5,000 wealth managers. The list was published on February 11th, 2021 on Forbes.com. The 2021 Best-In-State ranking is based on firms' AUM as of 6/30/20 and reflects Weatherly's AUM of $902,402,386. The 2021 Forbes ranking of Best-In-State Wealth Advisors, developed by SHOOK Research, is based on an algorithm of qualitative criteria, mostly gained through telephone and in-person due diligence interviews, and quantitative data. The ranking algorithm is designed to fairly compare the business practices of a large group of advisors based on quantitative and qualitative elements. Data are weighted to ensure priorities are given to dynamics such as preferred "best practices", business models, recent business activity, etc. Each variable is graded and represents a certain value for each measured component. These data are fed into an algorithm that measures thousands of advisors against each other. The algorithm weighted factors including revenue trends, assets under management, compliance records, industry experience and those advisors that encompass best practices in their practices and approach to working with clients. Portfolio performance is not a criteria due to varying client objectives and lack of audited data. Neither Forbes nor SHOOK receive a fee in exchange for rankings. In total, 32,725 nominations were received and 15,854 advisors were invited to complete the online survey. Throughout the research process, 13,114 telephone interviews, 2,085 in-person interviews, and 619 Web-based interviews were conducted. The ranking listed over 5,000 advisors, 79 of which were

⁵⁵2020-Barron's Top 100 Women Financial Advisors

Carolyn Taylor was included in Barron's July 2020 Top 100 Women Financial Advisors list. The criteria for ranking reflects assets under management as of 03/31/2020, revenue that the advisors generate for their Firms, and the quality of the advisor's practices. Investment performance is not an explicit criterion because the advisors' clients pursue a wide range of goals. In many instances, the primary goal is asset preservation. The scoring system assigns a top score of 100 and rates the rest by comparing them with the top-ranked advisor. Carolyn was ranked 63rd. Carolyn Taylor was invited to participate in the nomination process via email solicitation from Barron's, and nominated by colleagues for inclusion in the list. There are over 100 nominations, but only 100 published ranking spots. Barron's uses a proprietary method to rank advisors based on the criteria above. Weatherly provides this data to Barron's in the form of a survey response. Initial ranking is done by Barron's; publicly available data is verified by Barron's against SEC and FINRA reports. Barron's then conducts the next level of ranking. Data that is not independently verified by Barron's is then sent back to the Firm for verification. Barron's then incorporates any required changes into the ranking, and finalizes the list for editorial use and publishing. No payment was required for nomination or inclusion in the ranking. After receiving notice of inclusion in the top 100 ranking list, Weatherly paid Dow Jones & Company for custom hard copy reprints and digital access. No organizational memberships were required of the Firm or individuals. Ranking on this list is not representative of any one client's experience and is not indicative of Weatherly's future performance. ⁵⁴2020- Financial Times 300 Top Registered Investment Advisors

Weatherly Asset Management, L.P. was included in the 2020 Financial Times 300 Top Registered Investment Advisors list. This list was published in print and online on FT.com, on July 30, 2020. The selection process for the Financial Times 300 ("FT 300") is based on the largest independent Registered Investment Advisors across the United States that meet the following criteria: To qualify as a candidate for the FT 300, an RIA firm must manage at least $300 million in assets under management (as of 12/31/19), have no more than 75% of its practice's assets be institutional and be independent (it cannot be the RIA arm of a broker-dealer, for example). Financial Times invited roughly 4500 SEC registered RIA companies across the US who reported $300mm or more in AUM to participate in the review process. Some 760 RIAs applied, and 300 made the final list. Qualified RIAs were required to fill out an online application, and were evaluated on several factors including AUM, AUM growth rate, years the firm has been in existence, industry certifications of staff, SEC compliance report, online accessibility and other factors such that the final list should include a diverse range of practice types. AUM comprised roughly 72 per cent of each adviser's score, while asset growth accounted for an average of 15 percent. Additionally, FT capped the number of companies from any one state. The cap was roughly based on the distribution of millionaires across the US. The research was conducted on behalf of the Financial Times by Ignites Research, a Financial Times sister publication. The 300 firms were listed by state and alphabetically by business name. Weatherly paid Financial Times for custom hard copy reprints and digital access after the list was published. Wealth managers do not pay a fee to be considered or placed on the final list. No organizational memberships were required of the Firm or individuals. Inclusion on this list is not representative of any one client's experience and is not indicative of Weatherly's future performance. Weatherly is not aware of any facts that would call into question the validity of the list or the appropriateness of advertising inclusion in this list.

She was invited to complete an online survey detailing information about her career, as well as Weatherly as a firm. Carolyn was named 5th out of the 80 named from Southern California. In total, the list showcased over 4,000 wealth managers. The list was published on January 16th, 2020 on Forbes.com. The 2020 Best-In-State ranking is based on firms' AUM as of 6/30/19 and reflects Weatherly's AUM of $863,756,581. After a routine internal audit, Weatherly's corrected AUM as of 6/30/19 was calculated at $853,915,237. Weatherly disclosed this correction to SHOOK but the deadline for incorporating changes to the published list had past. The 2020 Forbes ranking of Best-In-State Wealth Advisors, developed by SHOOK Research, is based on an algorithm of qualitative criteria, mostly gained through telephone and in-person due diligence interviews, and quantitative data. The ranking algorithm is designed to fairly compare the business practices of a large group of advisors based on quantitative and qualitative elements. Data are weighted to ensure priorities are given to dynamics such as preferred "best practices", business models, recent business activity, etc. Each variable is graded and represents a certain value for each measured component. These data are fed into an algorithm that measures thousands of advisors against each other. The algorithm weighted factors including revenue trends, assets under management, compliance records, industry experience and those advisors that encompass best practices in their practices and approach to working with clients. Portfolio performance is not a criteria due to varying client objectives and lack of audited data. Neither Forbes nor SHOOK receive a fee in exchange for rankings. In total, 32,000 nominations were received and 7,556 advisors were invited to complete the online survey. Throughout the research process, 11,864 telephone interviews and 2,336 in-person interviews were conducted. The ranking listed over 4,000 advisors, 80 of which were located in Southern California. Basic Requirements to be considered for the "Forbes Best-in-State Wealth Advisors" included: 1) 7 years as an advisor; 2) minimum 1 year at current firm 3) advisor must be recommended, and nominated, by Firm, 4) completion of online survey; 5) over 50% of revenue/production must be with individuals; and 6) an acceptable compliance record. In addition to the above basic requirements, advisors were also judged on the following quantitative figures: 1) revenue/production; weightings assigned for each; 2) assets under management—and quality of those assets—both custodied and a scrutinized look at assets held away (although individual numbers are used for ranking purposes, the ranking publishes the entire team's assets); 3) client-related data (i.e. retention.) NOTE: Portfolio performance was not considered - audited returns among advisors are rare, and differing client objectives provide varying returns. Qualitative considerations examined included but were not limited to: 1) telephone and in-person meetings with advisors; 2) advisors exhibiting "best practices" within their practices and approach to working with clients and 3) advisors that provide a full client experience (factors examined include service model, investing processes, fee structure (higher % of fee-based assets earns more points,) and breadth of services, including extensive use of Firm's platform and resources; 4) credentials (years of service can serve as proxy); 5) use of team & team dynamics; 6) community involvement; 7) discussions with management, peers, competing peers, and 8) telephone and in-person meetings. Compliance records and U4s were also reviewed in detail as part of the selection process including: 1) infractions denied or closed with no action; 2) complaints that arose from a product, service or advice initiated by a previous advisor or another member or former member of team; 3) length of time since complaint; 4) complaints related to product failure not related to investment advice; 5) complaints that have been settled to appease a client who remained with the advisor for at least one year following settlement date; 6) complaints that were proven to be meritorious; and 7) actions taken as a result of administrative error or failure by firm. Weatherly Asset Management did not pay any fees to SHOOK to be nominated or included in the "Forbes Best-In-State Wealth Advisors" list and Weatherly was not required to advertise in, or subscribe to, Forbes. As of the time of this disclosure, Weatherly did not elect to pay for reprints of the list. Inclusion in this ranking is not representative of any one client's experience and is not indicative of Weatherly's future performance. ⁴⁹2020 – Barron's 2020 Top 1200 Advisors– March 2020

Carolyn Taylor was included in Barron's 2020 Top 1200 Advisor Rankings by State list. The full list can be viewed on Barron's website. The criteria for ranking reflects assets under management as of 12/31/2019, revenue that the advisors generate for their Firms, regulatory record, quality of the advisor's practices, and philanthropic work. Investment performance is not an explicit criterion because the advisors' clients pursue a wide range of goals. In many instances, the primary goal is asset preservation. The scoring system assigns a top score of 100 and rates the rest by comparing them with the top-ranked advisor. Carolyn Taylor was nominated for inclusion in the list. Survey data was submitted by over 4000 advisors, but only 1200 were published in the ranking. Barron's uses a proprietary method to rank advisors based on the criteria above. Weatherly provides this data to Barron's in the form of a survey response. Initial ranking is done by Barron's; publicly available data is verified by Barron's against SEC and FINRA reports. Barron's then conducts the next level of ranking. Data that is not independently verified by Barron's is then sent back to the Firm for verification. Barron's then incorporates any required changes into the ranking, and finalizes the list for editorial use and publishing. The Top 1,200 are drawn from all 50 states, plus the District of Columbia. This ranking is the largest and most comprehensive of the annual Barron's advisor listings. It includes a cross section of private-wealth advisors, from independents who own and operate their own practices to advisors from the large Wall Street firms. This special report lists the top advisors in each state, with the number of ranking spots determined by each state's population and wealth. Carolyn Taylor ranked 86th in the state of California. No payment was required for nomination or inclusion in the ranking. * After notice of inclusion in the top 1200 list, Weatherly paid Dow Jones Reprints and Licensing for custom hard copy reprints and digital access after the list was published. Wealth Managers do not pay a fee to be considered or placed on the final list. No organizational memberships were required of the Firm or individuals. Ranking on this list is not representative of any one client's experience and is not indicative of Weatherly's future performance. Weatherly is not aware of any facts that would call into question the validity of the ranking or the appropriateness of advertising inclusion in this list. *updated 3/27/2020

The ranking of leading financial advisory firms list consisted of 478 spots and was based on asset value of the average client relationship as of December 31, 2007. Weatherly was ranked number 289 out of 478 firms in the July/August, 2008 issue. The process for the Wealth Manager 2008 rankings was very much the same as it had been in previous surveys. The data was self-reported based on a firm's Form ADV. All numbers in the survey were as of December 31, 2007. Participants were ranked according to average AUM per client. Firms had to be registered investment advisors with their own IARD/CR numbers. Additionally, 50 percent of each firm's client base had to fit the SEC's definition for individuals or high-net worth individuals. Trust companies, banks and broker-dealers were not eligible. The average AUM per client was calculated as the firm's total AUM divided by the number of client relationships. The Total AUM was defined by Wealth Manager as the firm's assets under management- both discretionary and non-discretionary as defined by Form ADV, plus other assets not reported on Form ADV for which an advisory or management fee is charged. Commission assets, including brokerage account assets and any assets on which the firm received an immediate or ongoing service commission or trail, were not included in the Total AUM calculation. Client relationships were the total number of clients—not accounts, as many clients have multiple accounts under advisement. Married couples were counted as one client, while their children, if adults, were counted separately. ¹⁴2006-Wealth Manager

Weatherly Asset Management, L.P. was included in Bloomberg Wealth Manager's Sixth Annual ranking of Top Wealth Managers. The ranking of leading financial advisory firms list consisted of 500 spots and was based on asset value of the average client relationship as of December 31, 2005. Weatherly was ranked number 289 out of more than 400 firms in the July/August 2006 issue. Wealth Manager's "methodology for collecting and organizing the material for the 2006 ranking was virtually unchanged from the 2005* methodology". Participating firms had to be registered investment advisors with their own IARD/CRD numbers. Half of their clients had to be individuals or high-net-worth individuals as defined by the SEC. The firms had to offer financial planning services. Banks, broker-dealers and trust companies were not eligible. Firms included discretionary and nondiscretionary assets under management, plus various other assets not reported on Form ADV for which they received a management or advisement fee. Excluded from the AUM calculation were commission products, broker account assets, and any assets for which firms received a trail or ongoing service commission. The ranking was determined by dividing this final AUM figure by the number of client relationships reported. *Methodology from 2005: The asset value of the average client relationship was calculated by dividing the total client assets under management (including assets under management reported on Form ADV plus additional client assets not reported on Form ADV for which the firm received a management or advisement fee) by the total number of client relationships. In a few instances, the value of client relationships for firms listed consecutively was the same because of rounding. Their rank order in the tables reflected their relative value when the division was carried out to additional decimal places. In some cases, marked with daggers, the underlying values were exactly the same, and these firms were ranked alphabetically. Assets under management and average assets per employee were handled in a similar manner. The data used for this ranking was taken from a questionnaire sent to firms and from data that those firms provided to the Securities and Exchange Commission on Form ADV. Firms were identified through BLOOMBERG WEALTH MANAGER's database and from other industry sources. To qualify for the ranking, firms had to meet the following criteria: They were registered investment advisors with the SEC; they had a minimum assets under advisement of $50 million; more than 50 percent of the firm's client base consisted of "individuals" or "high-net-worth individuals" as defined by the SEC; the firms also offered financial-planning services. Not included in the ranking were banks, broker-dealers, and trust companies. Also excluded were firms that were branches of independent broker-dealers and those not operating as separate businesses with their own identities. Subsidiaries of larger companies were included, provided they met all the above-listed requirements and filed their own Form ADVs with the SEC. The 35 subsidiaries on the list were identified with an asterisk. The 500 firms on the ranking were categorized by size of assets under management, as follows: $1 billion or more, 40; $750 million to less than $1 billion, 23; $500 million to less than $750 million, 43; $250 million to less than $500 million, 101; $100 million to less than $250 million, 180; $100 million or less, 113. No payment was required for nomination or inclusion in the ranking. Weatherly paid a third party for reprints, as well as webLink permissions. No organizational memberships were required of the Firm or individuals. Ranking on this list is not representative of any one client's experience and is not indicative of Weatherly's future performance. Weatherly is not aware of any facts that would call into question the validity of the ranking or the appropriateness of advertising inclusion in this list.

³2004-Worth

Weatherly Asset Management, L.P. was included in Worth's "The Nation's 100 Most Exclusive Wealth Advisors" list in the October, 2004 issue. The 100 firms are listed alphabetically by state, and then alphabetically by business name. In selecting the 100 Most Exclusive Wealth Advisors for 2004, Worth editors asked readers to nominate those advisors who possess this superior ability- along with a host of other desired qualities. Editors extended this request to private banks, wealth management and investment firms and other industry associations as well. Nominated advisors completed an extensive survey in which they listed their educational credentials, compensation structure, client retention rate, outlook on the investment climate and model portfolio returns. They also answered questions about their professional histories and whether they have been involved in any legal or disciplinary matters. Worth's editorial staff selected about the daunting task of selecting the 100 Most Exclusive Wealth Advisors from a pool of several hundred candidates. At the top of the list of criteria that define superior wealth advisors are professional designations, which often evidence a higher level of knowledge and professional commitment. All credentials and designations were verified, and nominee backgrounds were checked using the LexisNexis legal database to search court and arbitration records with the National Association of Securities Dealers. Additional criteria evaluated included years of professional experience, client portfolio performance for 2003, insight into the current investment climate, and client feedback. Weatherly provided the names and contact information for three of its current clients, as requested by Worth. No payment was required for nomination or inclusion in the list. After receiving notice of inclusion in the list, Weatherly paid Worth for reprints. No organizational memberships were required of the Firm or individuals. ¹²2004-Wealth Manager

Weatherly was ranked number 317 of 450 investment advisors on Bloomberg's Wealth Manager Magazine's Top Wealth Managers Fourth Annual Ranking in the July/August, 2004 issue. The criteria for the ranking of registered investment advisors included average client relationship size and assets under management. The methodology for BLOOMBERG WEALTH MANAGER's fourth annual ranking of leading independent financial-advisory firms was based on the asset value of the average client relationship as of December 31, 2003. The list had 450 firms, listed in the "Champions" table beginning on page 70 of the July/August 2004 issue. The asset value of the average client relationship was calculated by dividing the total client assets under management (including assets under management reported on Form ADV plus additional client assets not reported on Form ADV for which the firm received a management fee or advisement fee) by the total number of client relationships. In certain instances, the value of the average client relationships for firms listed consecutively was the same because of rounding. Their rank order in the table reflects their relative value when the division was carried out to additional decimal places. In a few cases, marked with asterisks, the underlying values were exactly the same, and those firms were ranked alphabetically. The data used for this ranking was taken from a questionnaire sent to participating firms and from data that firms provided to the Securities and Exchange Commission on Form ADV. Participants were identified through BLOOMBERG WEALTH MANAGER's database and from other industry sources. To qualify for the ranking, firms had to meet the following criteria: They were registered investment advisors with the SEC. • They had minimum assets under management of $50 million. • The firms must also offer financial planning services. • More than 50 percent of the firm's client base must consist of "individuals" or "high-net-worth individuals" as defined by the SEC. Not included in the ranking are banks, broker-dealers, trust companies, insurance companies, and firms that are subsidiaries of larger companies. Also excluded are firms that are branches of independent broker dealers and those not operating as separate businesses with their own identities. A new listing of firms that would otherwise qualify for the ranking except for the fact that they are subsidiaries of large organizations was presented in "Medalists" on page 84 of the July/August 2004 issue. The universe of 450 firms was categorized by size of assets under management, as follows: $500 million or more, 72; $200 million to $499 million, 115; $100 million to $199 million, 135; $50 million to $99 million, 128. No payment was required for nomination or inclusion in the ranking. After receiving notice of the award, Weatherly paid a third party for reprints. No organizational memberships were required of the Firm or individuals. Ranking on this list is not representative of any one client's experience and is not indicative of Weatherly's future performance. Weatherly is not aware of any facts that would call into question the validity of the ranking or the appropriateness of advertising inclusion in this list.

¹¹2003-Wealth Manager

Weatherly was included in a list of investment advisors on Bloomberg's Top Wealth Managers Annual Ranking. The original ranking in the July/August, 2003 issue list consisted of 370 slots*. The criteria for the ranking of registered investment advisors included average client relationship size and assets under management. Firms were ranked by average client account size. The methodology for BLOOMBERG WEALTH MANAGER's annual ranking of leading independent financial-advisory firms was based on the average client-account size for the year ending December 31, 2002. The average client-account size was calculated by dividing the total client assets (which include assets under management filed on the Form ADV plus additional client assets that were not reported on the filing) by the total number of client relationships. The data used for this ranking was taken from a questionnaire sent to participating firms and from data provided to the Securities and Exchange Commission on Form ADV. Participants were identified through WEALTH MANAGER's database and from other industry sources. Firms that were listed meet the following criteria: Were registered investment advisors; Stated minimum assets under management of $25 million; indicated on the Form ADV that financial-planning services are offered; Reported on the WEALTH MANAGER questionnaire that comprehensive financial-planning services are provided either in house or via outsourcing; Declared that more than 50 percent of the client base; consisted of "individuals" or "high-net-worth individuals" as defined by the SEC. Because WEALTH MANAGER wanted independent advisory firms, they eliminated responses from banks, broker-dealers, trust companies, insurance companies, and their affiliates. Also, firms that are branches of independent broker-dealers were excluded, as were those not operating as separate businesses with their own identities. In cases where firms reported a higher number of client relationships than client accounts, they used the number of client accounts as the divisor to calculate the average account size. The universe of 370* firms was categorized by size of assets under management as follows: $200 million or more, 97; $100 million to $199 million, 84; $50 million to $99 million, 115; $25 million to $49 million, 74. The publication ran an update in the January, 2004 issue stating: "Our ranking of Bloomberg's Top Wealth Managers published in the July/August 2003 issue incorrectly reported the average client-account size for three firms. [Corrected figures for 3 firms provided]. In addition, the ranking left out 26 firms that should have been included. In many cases, the firms were dropped inadvertently because of inconsistencies between data items on our ranking questionnaires and those on the firms' Form ADVs. These firms are listed below." Weatherly was included on this list of 26 firms, which was sorted alphabetically by business name. No payment was required for nomination or inclusion in the ranking. No organizational memberships were required of the Firm or individuals. Ranking on this list is not representative of any one client's experience and is not indicative of Weatherly's future performance. Weatherly is not aware of any facts that would call into question the validity of the ranking or the appropriateness of advertising inclusion in this list.*

Worth reviewed all of the data from the client's perspective: each submission was reviewed for clarity, completeness, and attention to individual needs. Nominees were also asked to provide their best ideas and recommendations. Worth then checked nominees' backgrounds. Registered investment advisers were required to provide their Form ADVs, which describe the firms' services and fee structures and the advisers' qualifications (this is a great resource that all advisers should be willing to share with their clients). Worth verified credentials and made inquiries with industry associations, local courts, and the Lexis Nexis legal database. All advisors on the list were able to take on new clients. No payment was required for nomination or inclusion in the list. After notification of inclusion in the list, Weatherly paid Worth for reprints. No organizational memberships were required of the Firm or individuals. Inclusion on this list is not representative of any one client's experience and is not indicative of Weatherly's future performance. Weatherly is not aware of any facts that would call into question the validity of the list or the appropriateness of advertising inclusion in this list.
